Land Acknowledgement

Every community owes its existence and vitality to generations from around the world who contributed their hopes, dreams, and energy to making the history that led to this moment. Some were brought here against their will, some were drawn to leave their distant homes in hope of a better life, and some have lived on this land for more generations than can be counted.

Land Acknowledgement

https://native-land.ca/

- This meeting is being held on the traditional lands of the _____ People, and I pay my respect to elders both past and present, who have stewarded this land throughout the generations."
  - Please take a moment to consider the many legacies of violence, displacement, migration, and settlement that bring us together here today.
- Deliver your statement in the chat including the land/people relevant to the land that you are occupying during this session. Learn more by taking time to learn about the Indigenous history of the land you live on. The Partnership team will share the link to the US Department of Arts and Culture in the chat now. Visit https://usdac.us/nativeland to get started.

Upcoming Webinar Series

Building Community Pathways to Family First Prevention Services: Partnering to Redesign the Family Engagement and Service Delivery Context

Wednesday October 4th 2:00 – 3:30pm EST

This webinar will provide an overview of the prevention provisions within the Family First Prevention Services Act, highlighting the associated opportunities, limitations, flexibilities, and tensions. Community pathways to prevention services outside of the traditional child welfare service delivery context will be defined and operationalized. Several examples of how jurisdictions are conceptualizing and implementing community pathways around the country will be shared. Opportunities for elevating community leadership in co-design and implementation processes will be elevated.

Upcoming Webinar Series

Child and Family Well-being System: Economic & Concrete Supports as a Core Component

Wednesday October 25th 2:00 – 3:30pm EST

This webinar will share the growing body of evidence on the relationship between increased access to economic and concrete supports and reduced risk of family child welfare involvement. The intersection of family economic insecurity and involvement with child welfare will be discussed, as well as the potential for increased access to economic and concrete supports to address long-standing racial inequities and disproportionate child welfare involvement for families of color. Policy examples will be shared that demonstrate innovative pathways to increase the provision of economic and concrete supports as a child welfare prevention strategy and opportunities for partnerships with communities. Reorienting and resourcing child and family well-being and child welfare prevention will require new mindsets, partnerships and policies—a vision for the way forward will be introduced.
